Financial Literacy K-12

As our nation seeks to recover from difficult economic times, there is a greater need for teachers to provide financial literacy in the classroom on all levels and in all disciplines. This course will provide teachers with the tools to incorporate personal finance into the math, social studies and business curriculums, while helping to break down difficult economic concepts found on state exams, into fun and relevant discussions. As teachers, we need to make better personal financial choices within our own lives, in order to better serve as role models for our students. This course is designed to help you become a better analyzer, manager, and communicator of your personal financial conditions which will in turn help you better communicate and teach important lifelong lessons in the classroom.
