

CEN 506 - Science in the News (Formerly called Science On Trial)

Science In The News is an educational investigative course, which examines controversial scientific discoveries from antiquity to the present day.

There are many instances where scientific inquiry and thought have been met with hostility. These individuals and their work are now accepted, but taken in their historical context were bold and daring at the time.

Their stories of personal courage and intellectual integrity make for fascinating reading and study. Specific people studies will be Aristotle, Galileo, Rachel Carson, and John Scopes ("The Scopes Monkey Trial," Dayton, Tennessee, 1921).
