

Early New York History

This is the first part of a four part history of Long Island. Through a series of lectures, videos, slide presentations and field trips, participants will gain new insights into our regions history. Geology, Native Americans, the Dutch and Early English settlements will be covered in this course. Trips will include Garvies Point and Target Rock, Historic Hudson Valley, Sag Harbor, East Hampton and Stony Brook. Transportation will be arranged at the first class and participants will be responsible for admission fees collected at various sites. Suitable for K-12. Admission fees $55.00 (due the first class)

Inservice

Instructor:	Paul Wangenstein
Days:	Monday-Thursday
Dates:	August 3, 4, 5, 6, 2009
Time:	8:00 a.m.-3:30 p.m.
Location:	Sachem North Room #E212
Credits:	3 Inservice
Grade Level:	K-12
Course #:	SM09-025

